OPTIONAL DIRECTORS & OFFICERS INSURANCE (NON-PROFIT MANAGEMENT & CORPORATE LIABILITY)

The SWF provides an optional insurance coverage to the branches for Director's & Officer's Liability Insurance.

This insurance is based on a 3-year cycle, billed annually and running from May 1 to April 30. Applications are only required once every 3 years, and then it is automatically renewed and invoiced annually for the following 2 years. 2025 is the third year of the 3-year cycle and those branches that are already enrolled will receive an invoice in May for their 2025/26 coverage, along with an updated Certificate of Insurance. This year's premium costs for coverage are $148.40 for unincorporated branches, and $344.50 for branches that are incorporated (this includes the 6% PST).

Please find an information sheet on the insurance coverage. Also included with this coverage is the Trisura Legal Assistance hotline which provides unlimited access to legal advice.

As an FYI and just one example of possible coverage, we had 2 branches that were taken to court over noise violations for their ranges - one had this D&O coverage and their lawyer bills were covered ... the other did not, and they were responsible for their lawyer fees.

If your branch is interested in obtaining this insurance, please contact our office (306-692-8812 or sask.wildlife@swf.sk.ca) and we will get an application form out to you.

Directors' & Officers' Liability Coverage for Non-Profit Associations

Why is it important for non-profit associations to carry Directors' & Officers' (D&O) Coverage?

Consider the following summary and we're certain you will agree this coverage is essential for every non-profit association and more importantly the directors and officers that run it.

What is Directors' & Officers' (D&O) Liability Insurance for?

A D&O policy will pay defence costs and damages on behalf of covered parties in the event they are sued in relation to the performance of their duties for the corporation. The policy also provides full entity coverage for the corporation itself by paying on behalf of the corporation defence costs and damages that it is legally obligated to pay.

Who is covered under the policy?

The non-profit corporation (the entity) as well as all directors, officers, trustees, volunteers, employees and members of any duly constituted committee.

What is covered under the policy?

The following are examples of different claims scenarios that can find coverage under a non-profit D&O policy:

Alleged Discrimination based on Physical Disability

Associations are well within their legal rights to terminate an employee due to performance issues. However, if that employee feels they were dismissed due to their physical disability, they can bring a claim for discrimination that may ultimately be brought before a Human Rights Tribunal.

Breach of Employment Contract / Wrongful Dismissal

Employees can bring lawsuits for an alleged breach of their employment contract with the Association. This suit will likely name the Association itself, and may name other officers, managers or employees. Claims for breach of employment contract/wrongful dismissal are the most common types of claims brought against non-profit associations and their employees.

Sexual or Workplace Harassment

These types of claims can be brought by employees, applicants for employment or other third parties that allege they were harassed while on your premises. A D&O policy can pay for the defence of these suits.

Employment Related Libel or Slander

Personal injury claims relating to libel or slander in an employment situation are very common. Emotions often run high when a person's reputation is at stake. As a result, these types of claims are difficult to settle and legal costs increase accordingly. A D&O policy can cover the defence of these matters for you.

Infringement of Copyright or Trademark

In today's information age, many associations turn to print or online newsletters to get their message out through email campaigns or through posts on their website. While this is an effective way to communicate with your audience, it also increases your exposure to intellectual property claims for infringing on another party's copyright or trademark in the material you distribute.

Breach of Your Fiduciary Duty of Loyalty, Obedience or Care

Claims alleging a breach of your fiduciary duty of loyalty (to act in the best interests of the association and not your own), obedience (to adhere to the by-laws and other governing statutes) and care (to act with a high standard of care, skill or diligence) are at the core of the coverage provided by a D&O policy. Directors and officers of a golf course that buys the property of an officer at an inflated price can be sued for breaching their duty of loyalty. Directors and officers that operate outside of the association's mandate as stipulated in their by-laws and jeopardize their charitable status can be sued for breaching their duty of obedience. Those that don't use qualified professionals to assist with major transactions such as the sale of property or entering binding legal agreements can be sued for breaching their duty of diligence or care.

Additional Benefits of a D&O Policy

Protects the Assets of the Society

You work hard to raise funds in order to carry out the mandate of your association. Don't let those funds go to waste defending frivolous lawsuits. A D&O policy will pay costs on your behalf so your association's assets are preserved for their intended purpose.

Protects the Personal Assets of the Directors and Officers

Since directors and officers can be held personally liable under numerous statutes, it is imperative to purchase a D&O policy to protect your home, car and other personal assets.

Cover for Defence Costs, even for Frivolous Claims

Some claims have merit, others don't. A D&O policy will respond and pay for defence costs regardless of the legitimacy of the action brought against you.

Cover for Settlements, Damages and Judgments Awarded Against You

In addition to paying for defence costs, a D&O policy may also pay for settlements, damages and judgments awarded against you.

A D&O policy will Protect you when the Association Can't

The indemnity afforded to you by your association is only as strong as the association's financial ability to pay. Remove the uncertainty around whether there will be money in the bank to pay for your defence by purchasing a D&O policy to protect you.

TRISURA LEGAL ASSISTANCE HOTLINE

Your Trisura Guarantee Insurance Company policy includes access to unlimited legal advice by calling 1-866-945-5207. If you have any questions that require the assistance of a lawyer, the Trisura Legal Assistance Hotline is available from 8 a.m. to midnight (local time), seven days per week. In emergency situations, your call will always be answered.

What do I do if I require legal assistance?

1. Have your policy number ready

By having this information ready, we will be able to quickly confirm that you are a Trisura policyholder.

2. Call the Hotline 1-866-945-5207

The first voice you hear will be a customer service agent, who will take down basic information and direct you to the correct area of law. You will then either speak directly to a lawyer or schedule the most convenient time for a lawyer to call you back.

3. Speak with the Lawyer

Our lawyers are knowledgeable and courteous, and will provide you with information and clearly defined next steps. There is no limit to the duration or number of calls. On the contrary, it is encouraged to call whenever you have a legal concern to help minimize risk of more complicated future problems.

Legal Advice Examples

There are many scenarios in which an organization can run into legal strife. Here are some examples to better illustrate the importance of obtaining legal assistance in the time of need.

The Harassing Volunteer (Employment Dispute)

- A non-profit environmental association uses volunteers to supplement their regular employee workforce. Staff come forward alleging a volunteer keeps harassing his colleagues. The HR Manager does not know what steps can be taken to dismiss the volunteer without exposing the association to possible charges of slander.

A Negligent Homeowner (Bodily Injury)

- A charity that organizes volunteers to do small repairs at individual senior homes, has an unfortunate incident whereby a volunteer is hurt due to the negligence of the homeowner striking the ladder they were on with a lawn mower. The charity wants to know if they face potential liability issues and if they can take any legal issue against the homeowner on behalf of the volunteer.

Customer Testimonials

"The service was extremely efficient. Being able to run the situation by the lawyer and get help understanding the conditions of a contract let me know I was understanding all the options in my situation correctly and helped me to manage it knowledgeably which saved my family a lot of money in the long term. This service brings a lot of peace of mind." – Mila A

"Legal assistance provides me with the ability to obtain legal advice not just for the big issues but for all small ones as well. The professional and knowledgeable advice allows me to do my job with a higher level of confidence." – Gayle L

"Having telephone access to legal advice without the costly hourly rate lawyers charge is wonderful. I was able to ask a question which another lawyer quoted they would have charged $450 per hour." – Michelle F
